

About the Book

Evangeline Reconsidered explores the roots, legends, history, and impact of poet, poem, and enigmatic heroine Evangeline. 2022 marks the 175th anniversary of Henry Wadsworth Longfellow's Evangeline: A Tale of Acadie. Few cultural icons have been as influential and enduring and a symbol for the Acadian renaissance. Learn how Evangeline became an icon and why she continues to inspire and be re-imagined by artists, musicians, historians, and Acadians the world over.

“A long-needed work on a theme so central to Louisiana history, culture and identity.” —Brian Costello, author & historian

“You have captured the evolution of the Evangeline story by sifting through the generational contexts.” —Liz Williams, cultural anthropologist

“This book should be used as a textbook for teaching history, literature, and sociology in every school in Louisiana, French Canada, and parts of France.” —Warren Perrin, author & chair of the Acadian Museum

farfieldpublishing.com

About the Author: Veni Harlan is a multi-disciplinary creative who has worked as a graphic designer, photographer, art director, educator, communications consultant, writer, and environmental advocate. She completed an MFA in graphic design from Louisiana State University and a Fellowship in environmental communication from Loyola University New Orleans and maintains an endless curiosity in regional history, culture, iconography, and the natural world. Gulf Coast roots inspire Harlan's work which has been recognized in the fields of graphic design, photography, and conservation. Harlan resides in Baton Rouge, Louisiana.

Far Field Publishing | www.farfieldpublishing.com

Book Details

ISBN: 978-0578332871 | 7" x 7" | Perfect bound paperback | 84 pages

Greeting Card Set Details

Offered in sets of ten, these 5 x 7 cards are blank inside, printed on cotton coverstock, come with white envelopes, and are packaged in clear, eco-friendly sleeves.

Audience

Suitable for readers 10 years and older.

Suggested Retail

Books: $21 | Cards: $5

Retail Purchase

Books: $13.50

Cards: $2.50

Shipping

Free delivery of first order (within Louisiana). Shipping rates apply for subsequent orders.

Contact/Ordering

Veni Harlan

225-978-3624 or veniharlan@mac.com.

